

Raw Surface Water

* These four sites (Loch Lomond, GHWTP, Tait PS and Tait St. Diversion) are among those slated to undergo refurbishments at some time in the future to maintain their historic base levels of water supply. These refurbishments are distinct from WSAC's new supplemental supply project alternatives, which add to those base levels. Generally, these refurbishments will be made regardless of the eventual choice as to supplemental supply. Compared to the base supply, the supplemental supplies are likely to be small. Hence the small costs of the supplements are kept distinct from the large costs of the refurbishments.
